

G2 Consulting Wins Third Zweig “Top 100” Award

Troy, Michigan, June 15, 2018 - Justify isn't the only Triple Crown winner of 2018. G2 Consulting Group won its own Triple Crown in May when for the third year it was named one of the Top 100 “Hot Firms” nationally in the architecture, engineering and construction services industry. The award is based on G2's year over year revenue growth measured in both dollar and percentage change.

“Business growth fuels job creation and builds communities,” said Chad Clinehens, CEO of Zweig Group, the leading industry research, publishing and consulting group that presents the award. “That’s why it’s important to celebrate these companies’ success.”

G2 Consulting is a nationally recognized leader and one of the fastest growing firms in geotechnical, environmental and construction services. The company works in more than 30 states on projects including highway, road and bridge construction, port and harbors, schools, stadiums, telecomm, health care, renewable energy and more. G2 has reported double digit growth in each of the past six years.

“Our ‘Smart. Results. Fast.’ promise has resonated with our clients and our ability to consistently deliver on the promise has brought us repeat and new business,” says Mark Smolinski, G2 principal. “With this new recognition and the construction surge the country is experiencing we’re in an ideal spot to continue the growth. One of our biggest challenges now is to find the right qualified professionals to join our team and help us keep the momentum going, but that’s a good problem to have.”

Architects, engineers and construction services professionals interested in joining G2 should review the company’s website (www.G2Consultinggroup.com) for details and job openings.
